When we receive your documents, they will be scanned into our computer and used for reference and exhibits to support our opinion. Our lab is equipped to examine documents but we never perform any destructive testing on any documents. Our staff uses your documents to compare to known exemplars in order to draw conclusions.

We will provide you with a report, an affidavit, or a letter of opinion. We can provide court testimony to support our opinion in your case, if needed.

We like to work with original documents whenever possible. First generation photocopies can be used. We cannot use faxes.

We are portable so that we can examine documents at any location.
